Amundi Asia Workshop: Accelerating growth in Asia, Amundi's second home market

- €473 billion in assets under management distributed in Asia at end-2025, up fourfold since 2015
- +€84 billion net inflows over 2022-2025; ambition to generate +€150 billion net inflows over 2025-2028

Paris, 25 June 2026 – Amundi, the leading European asset manager with €2.4 trillion¹ of assets under management, will host an investor workshop today focused on its business in Asia, one of the growth priorities of its “Invest for the Future” 2025-2028 strategic plan.

Amundi has been deeply rooted in the Asian region for more than 50 years and built a comprehensive local setup. It combines a strong direct presence across Asia's main financial centres notably in Hong-Kong, Shanghai, Singapore and Tokyo, with successful joint ventures in India, China and South Korea. This pan-Asian footprint gives Amundi both scale and local depth across the region's largest and fastest-growing markets.

At end-2025, Amundi assets under management managed on behalf of Asian clients were €473bn, up fourfold since 2015. Its locally anchored platform is supported by 12 offices, and investment teams across 9 Asian markets. Leveraging both its global and local capabilities, Amundi offers a comprehensive range of investment solutions and services, addressing clients' needs holistically across the region.

Amundi is well positioned to capture growth opportunities from supportive trends in the Asia region, including rising financial wealth, growing retirement needs, expanding institutional assets and increasing demand for diversification.

At the “Invest for the Future” Capital Markets Day in November 2025, Amundi set a target of generating +€150bn² of net inflows in Asia over 2025-28. To deliver on this target, the Group will focus on:

- forging partnerships with leading wealth players across Asia and increase the number of wealth clients by +50% by 2028;
- expanding client reach across all institutional segments to increase the number of institutional clients by +50% by 2028;
- cementing Amundi's Joint Ventures leadership and continuing to explore new JV opportunities in markets where it is the best way to achieve scale, access and relevance;
- addressing all retirement investment needs, by strengthening and tailoring Amundi's solutions capabilities and leveraging each country's dedicated retirement schemes;

² Excluding the exceptional exit that will result from the RFP of India's EPFO

- capturing new frontiers' fast-growing opportunities, with a particular focus on South East Asian markets, notably by exploring go-local opportunities, both organically or through JVs.

To achieve this, Amundi will invest in talents and platform excellence, with a +30% increase in regional headcounts. It will also expand its solutions capabilities and product offer through product innovation across the full range of building blocks.

Fannie Wurtz, Deputy General Manager, Head of Clients Group and Chair of Asia, said: "Asia is our second home market and a proven growth engine for Amundi. We're accelerating our ambitions to capture the region's significant opportunities, leveraging our powerful local presence, successful joint venture partnerships, and global-local investment expertise to better serve clients. With a clear roadmap in place, we're confident in achieving our +€150 billion net inflows target over 2025-28."

The workshop will be held at Amundi London offices. It will be led by Fannie Wurtz, Deputy General Manager, Head of Clients Group and Chair of Asia, Vincent Mortier, Deputy General Manager and Chief Investment Officer, Olivier Mariée, Head of Joint Ventures and International Partner Networks, Eddy Wong, CEO, Asia, and Katsumi Fujikawa, CEO, Japan.

A replay of the webcast will be available after the event at about.amundi.com, in the « Shareholders » section, along with the slides of the event.
